

TABLE TALK for the Week of August 7-11

Here are some of the activities going on this week both in class and throughout the school that you could discuss at the dinner table, in the car, or anytime with your child. As always, please contact me with any questions/issues.

Dear Parent/Guardian,

First off, thank you for allowing & trusting me to be part of your child's 5th grade journey! I want you to know I take my job seriously & will do my best to educate your child about academics, responsibility, accountability, kindness, teamwork, & much more!!

During this week we will be learning & reviewing the school & class rules, procedures, & jobs used in class, as well as getting to know each other better. I have planned a lot of fun team building activities in an effort to improve communication, help all the students get to know each other better, and also feel comfortable & safe. Ask them what activity they liked the best! Also, a big THANK YOU to everyone who came to meet & greet & those who already dropped off their child's class supplies. For those who have not brought in your class supplies yet, please do so soon.

We will have a multiplication test on Friday so please test/drill your child on their multiplication tables. For those who provided your email, I emailed out the Table Talk Newsletter & other documents today (Sunday). If you did not receive the email due to an email address error, please send a note with your child to school with a current email address or contact me directly. For those who have not provided me your email, please do so ASAP as I email a lot of class & school info weekly. In an effort to ensure we have good communication lines open, I also sent a hard copy of this week's Table Talk Newsletter home on Monday in your student's homework folder too. However, after this week all Table Talk Newsletters will be sent electronically.

Below are important reminders and updates for the upcoming week:
